I know absolutely nothing about this stock besides it being in the news for the past year. I won't pretend I know anything, I don't know shit. I've bought 5 shares of this stock purely because I like the energy in this subreddit and the stupid shit people say makes me laugh and I'm just gonna be a sheep and follow all these monkeys to the supposed promise land.

Could anyone explain to me realistically how high could a share of GameStop go? I'm sure you have a billion of these exact same questions from idiots wanting to make a quick buck, but I'm one of those idiots.

Thanks and sorry haha. Y'all are a brave bunch
