We live in Canada and have been married for a year. We're not rich both of us are working and live paycheck to paycheck. My wife wants to use it to as down payment for our first house. But everything I learned here says this is not the time to buy a house and would rather buy all GME and leave house for after the mother of all squeezes. Any advice on how I can get my wife on board? She is also holding GME but isn't too fond of putting all of our money in it. Much thanks in advance ■■■
