This community is as much mine as it is yours. To date not a single person has been banned, asked to leave, or had a post removed. That will continue.

The conversations and topics that anyone here chooses to engage in, are meant for anyone with any level of experience when it comes to investing in any market. Most importantly Self-Investing.

There are no expectations.

Many assume that this is another GME dominate community. It is not. As much as many of us love the stock, it's not all about that one stock and only that stock.

The number of people within this community is not something that I or anyone really cares about. I don't care if we're not the most popular, I don't care that we're not mainstream. It doesn't matter. The conversations matter, you matter, the vibes definitely matter.

You don't have to get the cryptics to fit. You don't have to agree. Just be.

As close the door on '21 and enter into '22 I will start having more conversations about Crypto & NFTs on all levels. From education, to investing, to creation, to marketplace(s), to collecting. There will be conversations about the Metaverse and more. You are all welcome to participate in any form most comfortable.

This isn't about me, never has been, never will be. I just happen to be the most vocal & cryptic at times..until one or more of you rise above.

As you may have noticed, I've spent more time on Twitter lately. I've been more active there. That will continue as long as I make connections with certain people that I have identified as those I'd like to learn a thing or two or more from as I continue to grow. You're welcome in those conversations as well.

As has been and will continue, I will avoid bringing political views into the community as I don't feel any of us would gain. The only time I would prefer that politics are included in conversations is when it directly relates to a market..even then I ask that it's kept very limited.

Flairs will be adjusted soon as well as other quiet changes to our community.

I'd like to thank you all for sharing your time and your thoughts with myself and the rest!

Happy ■ Day to you & yours!
