Hi there, an ape with a few shares already safe at CS.

I am trying to DRS what I have left from my GME portfolio here and there (but eTorrro unfortunately, if anybody achieves it, let us know!!). Succeeded with Revolut through Drivewealth and TBH it was nice and easy as never thought it could, really fast as well. And for free!!

But it comes the time to deal with IBKR: create account, wait for a looooooot to receive cash transfer for fees (which I personally consider from Pleistocene times with so many PaiPal, Wise, yadda yadda stuff available).

Finally I decide to transfer my DiGiro shares but that process is waaay more complicated than Revolute was. They are requesting mandatory fields like "account denomination, broker's country and address, contact name, mail and phone from them"... I have literally no idea where to find all this info, spent the whole evening searching for it at my profile and just found my account number.

IBKR say to contact them via signed letter but that would take a long way, is there any other?

Where can I get all that info from to finally DRS my GME shares?? Thanks
