Hello guys, i just stumbled upon a project that looks amazing and i am looking to invest.

I need your guys oppinion on it, as i think you guys know better than me.

This project has its LP in USDC and it seems to rock during this market crysis.

They are allready working on a project that could disrupt a 100 billion dollar industry.

Using CAR T cells to restore pancreas ability to produce insulin plus a non intrusive COVID treatment, and they have a lot more things coming up.

Let me know what you think please, as i really want to catch this train! GME!
