Normally all "trust me" bro posts are sus AF and I usually make fun of them. So apes, please keep an open mind regarding my post. I was out last night with some friends that I haven't seen in like 8 months. I overheard a friend talking to one of his friends about how his investment firm that he works for in the UK will short the dollar. He told us that China will invade Taiwan in October/November because China wants Taiwan back and all of its semiconductor companies. I told him that that is crazy talk. He told me that his nephews are in the Marines and Air Force are telling him the approximate month that China will invade Taiwan (October/November. He even said that one of the firm's billionaire client went missing a couple of weeks ago in Hong Kong and his boss isn't able to communicate with the client. The billionaires in HK are in hiding, starving and trying to escape to Singapore/Malaysia. He told me to watch when the president goes on TV and tells the world China will not invade Taiwan is when his firm will short the dollar. His Nephews are training right now to defend Taiwan. He showed me pictures of his nephews in tact gear and drill stances.

TL:DR China will invade Taiwan in October/November. We buy GME, DRS, HODL, hedge for this situation, watch the world burn while we ride our rocket ships to Uranus.
