I have 12 GAMESTOP shares left in ETORO, the rest have been DRSED, these are my oldest shares and I can't decide whether to sell them and DR them as I had to do with the others. I am concerned about the stock split and how that would happen with ETORO. I am concerned at the speed I could sell shares through computer share as it takes days to buy them. I am concerned whether new shares bought would be eligible for the split. People throw some suggestions at me please.

PS I can provide proof of ownership of GME
