I found 3 posts in the first 10 minutes referring to NFTs in their current state, and all the comments were bashing them and hoping they would just disappear. GameStop have one shot at this, and I think the biggest hurdle is education, or lack of. But this is where we can come together as a community, with the drafting in of some big players (speculated to be Microsoft, Nintendo, Bethesda, etc.), plus the rest of the NFT community, to educate the rest of the world.
