Hey everyone! I simply want to share a quick discovery for anyone who has not encountered this yet and also point out a bug for the developers to hopefully see and fix before launch of the GameStop NFT Marketplace.

So first I'll start with the discovery which many of you may have already uncovered, but not all, is the ability to visit anyones profile by simply typing "beta.nft.gamestop.com/user-address-here"

Below is an example of that using an address of the alleged "Official GameStop NFT Team" profile.

Now the bug that I've encountered was this.

Basically you can visit someone's profile, but when you go back to your profile all of the NFTs of the profile you previously visited appear on your Owned tab. Rest assured it does not allow you to make any actual changes, but you can go as far as clicking the manage and hide NFT. Another bug is that this allows you to view any NFT that was intentionally hidden by the owner.

Below are examples of the mentioned bugs.

Able to use management of NFTs in your profile of other users NFTs. Don't worry, this doesn't actually allow changes. \ (Using GameStop NFT Team profile as example\)

Thanks for taking your time to look through these discoveries! Here are some addresses I've already explored and can take a look at yourselves!
