Ken is playing nice, he gives us dips every day for us poor apes to get in on the gravy train. Congrats to all the newly minted millionaires who just bought today's dip. Maybe we never see GME below 90 ever again! Or maybe Kenneth will continue to bless us with low prices and we can make a few more millionaires, gosh I hope so. If he wanted to be mean, he would simply let the price rise naturally, or dare I say COVER, thwarting most people from buying more shares. If he wanted to be mean, he'd take the price to 10,000. I dream of a day where I can't afford to buy another share.... alas, I buy.
