Hello, attempting to Drs my GameStop from Webull. Small question, they say in the text body that, "Each Drs costs $115 per security". My question is (dumb ape sorry), is the entire order of xxx shares one security?

Secondary question. They say I need a "letter of instruction" from computershare, however in all the posts that I've seen, I've seen that computershare will act of their own directive. What exactly do they need when they say "letter of instruction"? Thanks folks!

(I know it's been answered a bunch of times, I just can't seem to find a specific answer sifting through posts. Many implying that it's a one time fee, but I'm not about to pay 115 per share. I'm very much aware of the fidel exchange, however I'm trying to rush this thing and don't mind the fee, if it's a one time 115$)
