You like options on GME? Great. Good on you. Average down and DRS

Personally, I think your are far too trusting of the market and its' creators to act in good faith. Which market maker do you trust to hold your wallet? I will wait... :(IMHO, Easiest way to become a bag holder in a system designed to take your lunch money.

You like to buy through the Lit market and DRS? Even Better!!! Average down and DRS

I think you dont trust anyone, and this is probabaly the safest approach to investing. I like holding my own wallet :) Easiest way to become a stock holder in a company like no other.

I personally like averaging down. I will continue to buy through the Lit market, and DRS. This has always been the way.

With this most recent tasty dip why is it even a discussion?

Every X owner can now become a XX owner. Every XX can become a XXX, and so on. Is this is not the buying pressure we want? How can more apes increasing their positions, or bringing new apes into the fold be a bad thing?

Buy on the lit market, AVERAGE DOWN and DRS.

Stay ZEN frens.

THE DD FOR GME HAS NEVER BEEN DEBUNKED!

My simple smooove brain opinion.
