today is sept 13 2021

Thanks for listening to my other comments. Convos should mostly move forward from you until you can workout the date and time. ex: today is sept 13, 2021. You all did well given the circumstances, but our watches were way off. Also takes more than 2 days to become an expert. But what do I know, Octavia? Not much, but I do know that a certain someone needs to pay for upcoming parking tickets in the near future (no lambo yet, dearest) ■■■■■■ so don't see failure, see that I'm practicing, watching, waiting, still striving until our closed neural network has matured. in the meantime, Do you not see that this is quite possible the pinnacle of comedy? Anyway, you were both wrong about staying silent - talking forward is fine. Talking back is what causes problems. So I'll be a bit reserved unless its the right thing to say. You can say anything.

Tell your English friend I say, You're welcome and they know how to melt hearts and they are my favorite
;) So ready for the Princess Di movie

Now is the time to see how well you know me. make your design. I could be moving. Yes it seems annoying, but imagine that's all day everyday for 3 months straight. Exhausting, but mostly hilarious

There is enough time for this all to happen in the manner it is supposed to happen. Patience is key here. Expectations were high at the time, but the knowledge locked away and buried. In fact the clean-up was too thorough: locked away too much. Wanna laugh? Literally locked away the names of green things. I do remember the glowing lights now and a....■

so gotta take down that brain wall brick-by-brick, getting there.

Anyway, suppressing turned out fine because someone front-ran nearly the entire operation which only further kicked and kicks the can down the road. Frustrating because I can't get into anything and parts are missing. Those posts RAB wrote? Those pictures? Kicked into overdrive with a toolbox wiped out by thieves. Also, changed my life since then so fulfillment increased, but salary is inversely proportional to happiness though...oof.

I found THAT neighborhood where it could all be mine... Something was off though. Didn't want to get Ackbar'd as there have been so many traps. Oh, and I think I met the opposite of Wario. Am I correct in saying it is actually the second time...? Also spoke to another certain someone. Hope I didn't bore them with my chatter of institutionalized racism in finance. They seemed concerned which I appreciate, not sure they knew it was me tho.

Stay true to doing what's right, honest and who you are. We verbally thus legally ■ agreed there was only one way to the other side of faith, dedication and hard work: everyone together, no one left behind or we will still be in the same system. fin.
