Hello my monkey gang! Just a quick update for yesterday. This was nothing other than the MOA$$, which, just like last January, was suppressed by switching off the buy button (or this time a trading halt, which fulfills the same function) and massive naked shorting. Different people on different brokers got options triggered above $500, got notifications that they are ITM. That means quite simply that we were already over $500.

**The MOA$$ went off.****

No more and no less! I'm pissed off and really excited to see what happens! This is also the 42069. Proof that we are simply right about EVERYTHING. A short runup, a few options ITM and the whole house of cards collapses. As angry as I am, as bad as their crimes against millions of people were yesterday, the bottom line is that we can now finally be sure that they don't stand a chance. They don't even have an idea what to do with our beloved GME. The usual illegal shit, knowing that everyone is watching. If that isn't despair at its finest, then what is?

Stay strong fellow apes and buy more if you can afford. And don't you forget Apes Together Strong so don't sell till you are a billionaire ;)
