This poll is meant to estimate GME share ownership by gauging what percent of outstanding shares have been DRSED so far. Since we know the amount of shares already DRSED from the GameStop report we can estimate the total share ownership by seeing what percent of shares are DRSED.

Keep in mind that a lower DRS rate indicates there are more shares in circulation. For instance, if most GME owners have not DRSED, yet 50% of the float is DRSED, it indicates high share ownership and short interest.

What percentage of your shares are DRS'ed?

For the purposes of this poll, consider shares that are in the process of transferring as already DRSED.
