u/owter12 describes that $GME's former run-ups on 28-Jan-2021 and 27-May-2021 fall on the same days when preceding executive orders (EO) of EO 14032 became effective.

EO 14032 "prohibits US entities from investing in military and surveillance related Chinese companies that support the Chinese military."

So US entities must offload such affected holdings. This forced sell-off might drop the prices of these holdings significantly. Thus it is highly likely that they cannot be substituted in full amount with other securities. If they have been used as collateral for shorts it could be that they close some parts of their shorts to guarantee enough margin and this could make the shorted shares run.

Well, future will tell if the identified correlation is also causal and if the effect is strong enough to move $GME noticeably.

TL;DR: Buy, hodl, DRS, shop, repeat.
