I found myself in urgent need to sale some DRS'ed GME shares to cover unexpected expenses. I logged in to the computershare and submitted a limit sale order. A few minutes later I received a text message from computershare saying my order was executed.

I logged back in trying to figure out when I will receive the money. To my surprise, under the "CLASS A COMMON" heading, my supposed sold shares were marked as -xxx PLAN DEPOSIT, while under the "DIRECTSTOCK" heading, same amount stock were added as +xxx PLAN DEPOSIT. Before today's action I have under "CLASS A COMMON" heading +xxxx DTC STOCK WITHDRAWALS (DRS) and under DIRECTSTOCK heading +x PURCHASE-VOLUNTARY.

I have two questions: 1) did my sale in computershare only resulting in share transferring from one category to another? 2) how do I get the money? I tried to call computershare only getting the machines.
