A Form 144 is a document filed with the SEC by any holder of restricted stock who intends to sell those shares. The filer is then permitted, but not required, to sell the restricted shares at any time within 90 days after the Form 144 is filed. Form 144s are public filings; however, the vast majority of forms are not available on EDGAR as they are filed on paper with the SEC.

RC did not sell, he is not selling right away... within 90 days.

Even if he DID sell. his entire position is a drop in the fuckin bucket compared to this volume.

Also, we would see it in the daily option chain updates I do... If i see a sale, I will post here immediately.

For now, he's with us!

>Also, because he is now recently an insider as per the previous filing literally about 2 days ago, he MUST submit a form 144 to essentially state that he maintains his right to sell his restricted stock. MSM turning this into: 'RC sold' - is completely fake and disturbing.

>Also, after the 90 days is up, he'll have to submit another one if he didn't sell. If anything, this is fucking bullish as fuck because he knows he's about to make bank if he chooses to.

Edit/Updates:He appears to be subject to the Short Swing Profit Rule

<https://investopedia.com/terms/s/shortswingprofitrule.asp...> after his Form 3 filing, so if he sells any shares/options subsequent to today's Form 144 he'll be remitting all profits to $BBBY.
