

Title: SEC expecting a big change in June?

Author: SnooApples4563

Created 2022-05-09 16:42:42 UTC

Permalink: /r/DDintoGME/comments/ulvg6x/sec_expecting_a_big_change_in_june/

Url: <https://i.redd.it/ztwkfahabhy81.jpg>

Dear Client,

According to the circular of the US Securities and Exchange Commission, with effect from May 14, 2022 of US Eastern Time, SEC fee (Only applicable for sell orders) will be adjusted from 0.00051% to 0.00229% of transaction amount on most securities including US stocks and US options, in line with which we will amend the SEC fee.

Please note that all transactions which have an effective settlement date of US Eastern Time May 14, 2022 or later will have the new SEC fee rate applied.

For more details please refer to SEC official website.