I just finally asked Vanguard to DRS my shares. I was transferred through three people. The guy said it would take 3-4 weeks due to the volume. I asked him what volume and he said based on the amount of people amount of people DRS their GME shares. He also laughed and said DRS shares doesn't change what the company is worth and that he didn't understand GME because the company isn't making a profit. I said ok and asked to DRS all my shares. Am I just waiting on a letter from Computershare now?
