GME We have had a lot of shade thrown from bears over the past two years. Most common sentiment is our net earnings is on the low end at best. Many posts focus on stimmy checks and overtime at minimum wage jobs as the source of our investment portfolio's. But it my hypothesis a majority of the apes have upper middle class highly skilled jobs. Unfortunately the poll only lets me pick 6 options. If I left your field out was not out of disrespect, I picked these 5 because I believe that a bulk of apes fit into these categories. But we will see.
