Even though Christmas has already passed, it's quite evident that we're closer than ever to reaching critical MOASS, and there's a certain ring to MOASSmas, is that what everyone will be calling the day that SHFs hit the fan?

Also, what will be the day to celebrate MOASSmas? The day SHFs get margin called and can't pay? The day we hit $69,420,740.69? The day we reach gme floor?

What sort of customs will it have? I don't think everyone is going to have brown-tipped bananas, but to me it seems fair that with MOASSmas comes molasses, so maybe molasses cookies? I feel that these are things we need to figure out now before everything goes crazy (Sorry for the call to action... does it help if I say I'm not a shill?)

Food for thought. Let's figure this out! What other customs/ ideas do you guys have?

PS, literally just woke up, so sorry if everything is a jumbly mess.
