OK. I have seen a few comments and posts mentioning that at the end of this week potentially around 3.4 million Gamestop shares will come due I think linked to OpEx (options thing).

Obviously they are not going to produce those shares and will weasel out of it.

I just want to be able to explain the most probable way they will sidestep their obligations.

I'm just trying to paint a picture to him how much fl*ckingery is going on in a convincing manner. Also, if anybody can explain how they can't get away with this forever that would be a big help too!
