First time poster and have read everything on this sub since May 21...
It's happening.
Everything I have read on this sub for 8/9 months is coming to fruition.

FUD levels increase. Apes predicted this months ago. This will be a challenge, they will throw everything they have at us, be wary of everyone and every news outlet. In particular the last 2 weeks have shown this . Exactly as predicted.

The whole market is crashing. Everything is tanking. Everything! Well except Costco, why is that? Anyway, I digress, this was also predicted months ago! The dip before the rip. Interest rates soaring and no end in sight. Jobbies (Scottish ape as this terminology is within sub rules) are hitting the fan. It's also exactly as predicted.

Shitadel were defeated. I've seen this overlooked in recent weeks. They were battered into submission. Beaten. They had to take in over $1B in 'investment' for the first time ever. Imagine the pain that cause Kenneth. Gutted, distraught, angry. All one last play. This is the play. Tank it thinking it could cause panic and coming up for a particular anniversary....? This is their final big play but they don't stand a chance.

I, like all of you, have struggled with how long this has went on. Both financially and mentally. Each individual investor must have found it tough going at times, I know I have, but we never lose faith. We never give up. It's amazing to look at this sub when things seem at their most bleak. The optimism, the faith each individual investor has.... It helps me every time.

So with this post, my first and only post, I hope to do what so many of you have done for me.... Lift your spirit. We have all read the DD, we all know, we all invested our own hard earned money of our own accord.

Have no fears friends. We are on our way. This is it...
