Me and my uncle are both smooth brains and finally are going to DRS. We are each x,xxx gme holders after the split now. However, I have a few questions for those who have DRSd.

Question 1: what is the deal with the market sell limit thing? I just want to know that when we moon, can I still sell? For example, can I just hit sell and have my sweet tendies?

Question 2: on computer share will it let me sell online at any price? Ive seen agents say different things and people say different things.

That's basically it. Sorry for being late to the party.
