Yeah man, there's a whole horde of shills that just sit there and immediately down vote content to try and manipulate what goes up. Theres like a void in the first 20 upvotes or so that is fighting to make a post go up.

Do you guys ever sort posts by "new"? Because if you do right now, you'll see shills keep downvoting new posts. The new posts feed is littered with 0 vote posts that are GME positive sentiment Apes. Something needs to be done about this bullshit m0ds, instate an hour where posts can't be downvoted

Discussion / Question

Check it, I dare ya.. 0 votes on all these posts is bullshit... I can't stand telling people constantly about this and nothing ever getting done about it. Put a damn policy in place that posts can't be downvoted for the first 30 min-hour(random amount of time).
