I'm dumb and confused and psyched for anyone who crushed it. Also, I'm not saying it's not associated cause obviously papa Cohen has his finger in their pie, but is B B B Y just the best/worst distraction possible? If the central thesis here is correct and the system itself is broken and DRS'ing shares is the only way to apply pressure to the system, why is there such engagement with buying bed through the same shitty brokers? If long-term it is assimilated into the Gmerica multi-verse then DRS'd stonk holders would potentially own it indirectly anyways right? Everyone loves gains, but as far as I know Bobby can't be drs'd through Computershare. I've heard no mention of who they transfer agent is. So we can safely assume all these apes purchasing from brokers. Doesn't that mean they are essentially helping the market's and gme's adversaries by putting money and shares back in institutional possession? Clarification needed please.
