Let's say i want to sell my shares, which are registered through ComputerShare, with a limit order. Will i receive the amount of the price which triggered the order? Even though it takes some time to sell via CS?

For example i set a Limit Order at 30,000,000 but after 4-5 days (since selling through CS apparently takes quite some time) my order got cleared and went through the whole selling process, but the price after a few days is 20,000,000. Do I get paid the execution price of 30 or the 20?
