My favorite hedge fund is back in business and dumber than ever. I recently made a post showing my gains of nearly 10000% from SST and I'm still in. Not only did they get me my first bag on GME way back in the good'ol days, but they have done it again. These numb skulls just don't know when to quit with the shorting. $$SST has a whopping 400% Short Interest on a stock with 700,000 free float (yes 700k) confirmed my the s1-a filing. I don't know how many times I have to teach this old man a lesson but I ain't complaining.
