This is only one person in this complex web of market manipulation but is needed to understand how I came about looking so far back in GME's historical data.

Once upon a time, a gentleman by the name of Bezos wanted to control every corner of every market of e-commerce. He shorted Toys R Us, Sears, Blockbuster and who knows how many other companies. We all know by now they went about it this way because Anti monopoly laws prevented them from simply buying up the competition.

Edit: He even failed making rockets to compete with Elon. Reminds me of Stark vs Hammer in Iron Man. Hammer couldn't make a working suit to save his life, he had to steal tech from Stark.

A long time ago I stumbled upon one of Melvin's Filings showing they held 85,000 shares of Amazon, while holding 6,000,000 puts on GME and 600,000 puts on the movie company.

Literally I figure out right then that bezos was trying to bury these two companies to take their assets for pennys on the dollar(you know since theyd be bankrupt) and then take over their positions in the market.

Somebody like bezos has nothing but time on his hands to carry out such a long term shorting plan. Anyways I began looking at GME's historical data the day I found the starry night post from sept 28th 2015. It happened to be posted just around the time that gamestop started a 5 year descent to where it almost became bankrupt. The GME sub was created right around this point in time. The subs creation date is a marker to look at the graph at that date.

It gets real interesting when you start doing the math on all the volume in the last 5 years. While writing this DD I'm thinking I need to go back to 2012 and add it up from there. Here's how to do it:

Step 1

So now we see how easy it is to find these numbers for ourselves?

9,135,848,300 shares trade in just those 6 years undoubtedly mostly naked short sales. We are in for the ride of our lives Apes! Theres 3 more years of data I haven't added into this total yet! It's safe to say that Hedgies R Fuk

Here's what my spreadsheet looks like as a pdf:

Edit2: Only took 12 minutes on the phone with fidelity to get my share transfer set up through computer share. I purchased new shares and made an account before transferring my others
