1. The splividend won't cause MO... I mean the fukning.

It will help sustain the upward price movement however and I expect the share price to quadruple within 12 months.

2. DRS at 100% won't cause the fukning.

It will however give RC the ammunition necessary to take steps to protect GME from naked shorting.

3. The GME marketplace won't cause the fukning.

The HFs already ignore the fundamentals, they'll continue to do so even when GME are making billions in fees.

4. This will be a war of attrition. The HFs will just slowly bleed to death from 1,000 little cuts. They have no other options. Each success GME has will be one more cut.

5. As the Marketplace expands and becomes very lucrative, GME will be recognised as a solid investment opportunity by those parts of the MSM unaffected by the influence of the HFs.

6. When the DRS reaches 100% and the dark pool volumes are still high, RC will utilise the Marketplace to remove shares from the DTCC's control. If the DTCC make this difficult, RC will create an NFT dividend for shares and push the FBI to prosecute those brokers who aren't able to provide their clients with the NFTs.

7. I think we're at least 3 years from the fukning. I'd love to be wrong and find out today's the day.

8. Final prediction, GME will become so successful people will not want to sell their shares. The dividends alone will make us as rich with guaranteed annual income. Retail will sell less than 20% of their shares.

Please rip these predictions to shreds folks, happy to be corrected.
