#Stable and safe investments are made with loyal investors base. For example: GME. Yes gentleman, ma'am, because of you, too..■■. You are making investments safe and stable no matter what, because of using simple but effective investment strategy: BUY AND HOLD. What's more, you are helping company that you like, in company you trust and have vision of future success of company. With hard - made money, full of your "blood", tears and sweat, is nothing what is holding you more away from reaping rewards only YOURSELF. Why?? Lets check it out..■■ Some boring bla bla but for better orientation..■■

Mechanics of Fuddy fuddy and principles of human nature. You don't have to be PhD, to figure this shit out. As you know, your daily moves in your life, your relationships, all those situations you are engage in, directly or indirectly making emotional response. This response in your body, and you know this very well, for example, you see hot chick in gentleman's case, and hot male on woman's case. You feel it, and for you, because you feel it, its reality, perception of this feelings. All of you are familiar with this, so i explain it as simply as possible.

Financial markets are environment. This environment have characteristics and is lead by motives of its participants, which create mood in this environment, options and conditions. Its system with its own rules, but still created by human being. If you wanna success, you have to adapt and analyze this environment which is full of theories but goal is simple: Fuck you over, make you confused.

What is your position, your place in hierarchy of this system?? You are SOURCE.

Source of income, that is donating someones lifestyle, basically prey.

How you know, this or that is "true"?? Its pretty easy. Lets call it "truth indicator", its feedback, response on different incidents. In our case, its PRICE which is reflecting perception of market participants.

Scenario 1:

So, if financial markets are ponzi scheme, and main tool is naked shorting to provide liquidity, earn retail's money and buy some Audemars, what is your goal??

Preventing FOMO, and create Panic Selling among participants, holders.

How you do it: Spreading narrative aiming on your nature.

Mechanics, pretty linearity in human perception:  $X = Y$ , with examples and rules they gave you, this create "reality" and when  $X = Q$ , you are confused. You start asking, and they gave you False WHY. Another shitty reason.

Fuddy fuddy directly aim on perception of yourself, in society with public opinion, personal attacks, with human nature to have values, be on pedestal. This stuff is confronted with: for example: You are stupid, naive, cult - member, etc. Its deprecation of your value, so buy puts on that retard, because he will be bend, and will sell. Second: Its about where you belong. Way of life. Society. Another puts.

Main rocks of human beings. Social pressure.

Are other investors threatened like this because of their holdings like for example : FB,Goog,MS??
This means, if you have tech stocks in your portfolio, you are supporting "spying" on people?? No "privacy"?? Of course not!

Goal is to create your identity, identity of lower values well known in society with examples in history, based on your holdings, where you do not want to belong.

You see, total BS!■■■

Simple like that■■■...

Enjoy your day! Thanks for time you give to read this shit!
