

Title: So you're about to be FILTHY RICH. Some information and perspective so you can 'Be Like Cohen'.
Author: AsTheSkyTurns
Created 2022-05-27 21:12:10 UTC
Permalink: /r/GME/comments/uz7yh8/so_youre_about_to_be_filthy_rich_some_information/
Url:
https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/uz7yh8/so\_youre\_about\_to\_be\_filthy\_rich\_some\_information/

Congratulations, you've Ground-Floored the Gamestop Turnaround. You're in on the greatest Investment Opportunity of all time... and it's not a 'Beach Front Property in Arizona'.

Major Corporations in the United States generate significant portions of their Gross Income from Government Contracts. Equally so they harvest User Data, prepare it, and sell it on the open market... including to Governments. This is especially concerning when you look at a recent trend of conglomerates like Microsoft who acquire large swaths of varying sectors only to roll them up into one brand/parent company. Afterwards they force users to create a user account with them to access goods & services to practice the above User Data practices, no care for the consumer, no care for privacy. (Windows 11 anyone?)

Companies like AMD, Apple, Intel, Nvidia, TSMC, Texas Instruments, Samsung, Western Digital... all sell designs and technology that are not only years behind their current capabilities, but are integrated into goods that scalp consumers. When the average American Citizen makes less than $30,000 per year a new-to-them house will run them between $200,000-$600,000+ dollars. A new vehicle will run you $25,000-$50,000+. A new phone will cost $1,000 - $1,500. Now, do any of you think that these goods are designed to last or provide sustained value? A new roof in 20 years. If a consumer doesn't undercoat their new vehicle ($1,500-$3,000) it will rust out in the next 10~ years. Now add on preventative maintenance, washes, touch-ups, and such. Now throw on the planned obsolescence in cutting corners resulting in electric shortages frying an AC-Motor, head/tail lights burning out, or a leaking window/windshield/moon(sun) roof? Now throw on recalls in which products are pushed out to start turning profit knowing that consumer lives are at risk.

Then you've got companies like BOFA, JPMC, WF, those assholes, Deutsche, Santander, Blackrock, Vanguard, Fidelity... all those parasites operating in a Racket known as the Stock Market designed to scalp the Consumer, Retail Investor, and naïve Entrepreneurs. Who finances Mortgages, Liens? PFOF and Dark Pools anybody? How about a Federal Reserve that prints money and gives it to these parasites for free? News flash, we do not live in a Trickle-Down Economy. We live in a Flow-Up Economy.

Guess what? The Government not only enables it. They prefer it. In a world where the Average Citizen and Unskilled Laborer in the United States, adjusted for inflation, should be earning $135,000 per year. They instead make less than $35,000. Now add on Federal and State Taxes, Sales Taxes, Title Taxes, Property Taxes, Hotel/Resort Taxes, Taxes at the Fuel Pump... Now add on FICA, Social Security, Medicare that gets taken out of Pay Checks. News flash, most Citizens will not live to see Retirement. Most citizens will not be able to make use of these 'Programs' that restrict Incomes, Cash Flows. Speaking of Retirement... did you know that 401ks were invented by Wallstreet in order to generate more Liquidity? Speaking of 401ks, as of January 01, 2022 the Government mandated employee 401ks and contribution by employers? How likely are employers to increase compensation in light of this? If higher costs are passed on to the consumers, what happens to employees? Pour one out for the Roth, Back-Door Roth, and Mega Roth... they were the greatest path for most Americans to generational wealth before Gamestop.

Grocery Stores are marking up food goods 30-60% when reported inflation is 8.5%~. Is the Government doing anything about the Price Gouging? Healthcare Conglomerates are charging $50 for a bag of salt water via IV, $500 for Iodine Contrast that costs less than $1.50 per dose from Wholesale. Having a child? $20,000+ for just the hospital stay. For the cherry on top... Remember in the 2000s when services like Dominos, Papa Johns, all started charging Delivery Fees for 'elevated fuel/logistics prices'? Did those go away 2016-2020 when the price of fuel was at it's lowest since the 90s? No, and personally it *really* 'Grinds my gears'.

**The 'Greatest Economy and Country on the Planet' runs on RAW DOGGING you and yours. No KY. Bet they didn't teach you any of this in your College Education. How are those Student Loans treating you?**

Now we have Gamestop and Attaches. Ryan Cohen and his Merry Men are doing WORK. For those of you who may not be able to see it. Gamestop, Loopring, ImmutableX, and successive partnering entities are WORKING to empower the Consumer and the Working Class. They are DECENTRALIZING Economics by EMPOWERING every one of you. They are building a network of services and technology that inhibits Fraud and Corruption. What they are building stonewalls Tyranny and Dependency. What do they need from the People they are fighting for? BUY. DRS. HODL. BUY. WITHDRAW to Layer2. HODL.

You're not going to find VALUE in the bottom of your popped-corn box. FUCK gold mines and in-movie meals that would have been a good idea in 2005. FUCK your $7.50 Hotdogs and $10.00 large, diet cola.

**We are not the same.**

*PS: FUCK Reddit, Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, Youtube, Netflix, the NFL, MLB, NBA, NBC, Fox, CBS, NPR, the entirety of the Collegiate/Scholarly Hegemony, and FUCK anyone else squirming in their seats reading this. You're all incestuous and ethically & morally bankrupt*