Hey there apes!

So I have been thinking, that despite so much information, I havent really seen any info regarding how long it took for us europeans to receive our letters and which way did they arrive to you.

So, Im from slovenia and started my DRS process in the beginning of december and have yet to receive my statement.

So last week, I asked for express delivery, which in the US is supposedly 24 hours, which will probably take a bit more time to reach me in the EU, but here is the thing. I dont really know which courier they are sending through or how the exchange will work? Will they give it to DHL or some other express postal service, which delivers ONLY in the morning or via regular mail, where I can go pick it up at the postal office.

Any apes have any info to share regarding this? Maybe I didnt ask the right questions or basically forgot while talking with the rep? Everything helps! =)
