I'm just a smooth brain ,25 year member of the IBEW.

After the halt and the announcement of a split I finally decided to drs my gme shares from f i delity.

I've seen screen shots of people transferring shares through the online assistant but when I tried it told me to call the the 800 #. I called f i delity this morning and the whole process took about 15 minutes on the phone.

Cory, my customer rep was super cool. I didn't have to give any information for my computershare account. He said that they didn't need it and the transfer would take 5-7 business days.

Guess I always thought it would be a pian in the ass to transfer but it was super easy and everyone should know how easy it is.
