Check out this ad from apples event today. The iPhone SE has a “view in Augmented Reality” button. You will get a screen with a toggle at top for AR/Object. Select AR. It'll say to scan your phone around. Scan over a counter and it will drop an Apple SE on your counter. You can move it and resize it on your phone screen. Walk away and come back and it's exactly where you left it.

If this is where GME is going with the NFT Marketplace this is huge. Gaming drop boxes everywhere in real life settings. Digital art anywhere for creators. Digital billboards wherever and however big you want. This. Is. Huge. For revenue sources. Obviously this is from the Apple event but if this is going to be used for gaming....wow. Check it out before Apple removes it. I had actually been able to walk into the coloured Apple logo before the event but they've removed that now.
