Hey Apes,■■■

It's been a rough week so I thought I'd make a short story focused on the pure DD that matters the most, the ETF shorts attacking GME stock price and the way hedge funds use them. Also I put a focus on our ultimate solution to this situation we're in, that being DRSing our shares and locking up the float.■ I even skim over the DTCC fraud with brokers borrowing our shares through them along with other things.■ I wanted to cram as much DD into this story while keeping it fun and entertaining for anyone that might stumble onto this video without any knowledge on the topic. Hopefully they gain a wrinkle and start their own deep dive.■ I really found that making this video clarified my own understanding of things and thought I'd share.

Thanks to the great work of u/bobsmith808 u/crind and u/gherkinit, they helped me come to a better understanding of these market functions. I made most of the art/music and I hope you enjoy!■
