They used a graph from the Jan sneeze to show the earnings they aren't passing onto the front line (allegedly according to the article in the link) and have a comment section full of people ripping on our beloved retail merchant.

Seems kinda fuddy if you ask me.

Also attention to the URL address, not a fan of the words "meme-stock-crypto-scam" being used as keywords for this article.

Apologies if this is a repost.
