Jesus Christ. Diamond hands is no longer about taking advantage of an opportunity. It's not about redistributing wealth. It's not even about saving a company anymore. This post clearly shows that it's so much bigger than all of that. It's now become about exposing and destroying one of the most CORRUPT financial network systems in the world.

If people fucking paper hand this we lose the one chance the world has - not just us - to fix the system once and for all. I hope all you fucking idiots realise now the responsibility on your shoulders. Do not fuck this up.
