Ok I'm going to ask. Is there somewhere that very simply breaks down NFT's, what they are, how they're valued, what gives them value and what it all means in the grand scheme?

For giggles and shits I stylized a photo of mine and tried to upload it to Gamestop NFT just to see what happens. I got to where it asks for my ETH address, so I had to google what that meant. Then I followed the steps to get an address and was asked to scan a QR code with x,y, or z app. I gave up and my head is just swimming now.
