Whats everyone thoughts about investing at this prices? Still haven't seen profit a quarter. But with all in pipeline its looking promising.

Amazon was bleeding also at some point.

So is it a good risk reward ratio to invest in gme at this price? We are a long way from all time high, so its pretty "high" price to buy at. But its still very cheap I would say.

Now im not talking about a short squeeze and short interest, because we never know whats gonna happend. Im talking fundamental and the company.
