first to prices such as $200 and $300, but then more dramatically, starting with the $420.69 orders, and ultimately to a high ask price of $448,950. During that time, we saw some very distinctive order prices, such as $999.69, $1,420.69, $1773, $2,222.69, $4,567.89, $4,999.69, and (perhaps most notably) $69,420.69. This is how we know that these are real orders, and not some strange artifact from pegged order types. Meme prices in meme stocks exposed this problem - and some of your orders have helped me get to the bottom of it!
