Just trying to understand how every time I look up (since rc selling his bbby shares) whether it be daily, hourly or by the minute, GME keeps going down? This seems not logical? Esp with all the info weve gathered the past 2 years, with over 50% of the real shares directly registered away from shfs and none of us selling whats in our iras and scammy brokers.

Are we just waiting on T+90 post splivi? When that ends up being a nothing burger are we then just waiting to lock the float via DRS?? What are we expecting now? Gamestop should be addressing the dtcc fraud yeah?
