Just a reminder that if you have a sizable fraction of a share in CS, direct-buy enough $ more of GME to get it to the next whole share before the split. Ex: If you have 12.75 shares, just buy another $25++ worth to be sure you get another 0.25 shares (++ in case the share price rises before trade executes). This way you'll get that full share for the stock split because fractionals won't split. I would think this would be especially recommended for X holders.
