Back in February of 2021 I bought GME shares through Webull and from then to June of 2022 I transfer to another broker. Ultimately to Computershare to sell in June 2022 to get my SSI (Social Security Income) off of hold. Sadly even though I was able to provide information from Computershare and the other broker. Social Security is requesting that I provide monthly statements from Webull from July of 2021 to November of 2021. After calling Webull Customer Service several times (Apparently they do not make monthly statements for months where there are no changes to your account) And days and hours of calling my local Social Security office ( They NEED that information or they can't do anything to fix my SSI.) I found myself stuck in limbo. Has anyone had any similar issues with this? If so is there anything I can do to try to fix this?
