Oracle is responsible for all of the bank-to-bank transactions for the Ruble in Russia on Oracle Database, and there is no alternative solution to their services in the Russian market. If Oracle were to leave Russia, it would prevent all Russian businesses from being able to deal with one another. Oracle has enough soft power in order to end the war in Ukraine in a single day, and as fellow Redditors I ask you whether or not you can ethnically support a company who refuses to stand by and do nothing while Ukraine suffers.

Make the gamestop.
