Why are people saying a GME dividend will decrease share prices?

I get that a straight split would change the price automatically...

e.g. you have 1 share at $100 and split it into 4 x $25 each.

But a dividend - where we are given 3 extra shares each - would not change the share price in my mind.

We are all just given extra shares of the same value of our current shares.

E.g. you have 1 x $100 share and are given an extra 3 x $100 shares to make $400 in shares now.

The GME share price is still waaay too low, it doesn't matter how many shares I get given ■
