So as much as I like GME and have spent the past year reading DD and know their will be moon ■ soon Tomorrow I believe. But Shouldn't their be a ton of platforms and DD. Showing people who is invested in these said hedges to run for their lives? I mean we wouldn't want people that aren't informed to loose their life savings because people like Cramer and other platforms keep lying. Not trying to convince anybody to buy anything just wish we were able to inform good people who just want to retire, and these people who manipulate the media to make this seem ok. I feel bad their has to be winners and losers when it comes to normal trusting people. I personally don't have a ton of followers but the ones who do I hope your hammering out the fact these people aren't going to be able to cover their losses.
