gmE is a oppurtunity of a century's lifetime, I have only 2.5 shares but i will be glorius when it cen sell if for 60million dollars baby in this thread post the number of shares you bought and how much millions do yo are planning to hold. for me personally, so its not a financialized advice I will sell 1 (one) share for 20 millions USD because this the mony for a share that is acceptable for me and I can shop in gamerstop while the smaller holders get to experience higher value. then it works for me to never sell again, my other stockholders share is forever locked in cone-poo-chair and they can never get this share from mine.
