Here's what looks to me like the most relevant rule as to why I think Computershare will stop registering shares once they've registered all outstanding shares.

This is an excerpt from: <https://www.sec.gov/rules/final/1983/34-19860.pdf>

(g) A registered transfer agent, in the event of any actual physical overissuance that such transfer agent caused and of which it has knowledge, shall, within 30 days of the discovery of such overissuance, buy-in securities equal to either the number of shares in the case of equity securities or the principal dollar amount in the case of debt securities. This paragraph requires a buy-in only by the transfer agent that erroneously issued the certificate(s) giving rise to the physical overissuance.
